Creative Printers launches website Check us out at creativeprintersonline.com

You can now read your local newspapers in a new way! Creative Printers launched a website that went live Thursday, April 27.

"The website, designed by Melody Hansen of Sublime Artistry, is very user friendly and will allow our subscribers to not only read their newspapers in print, but it will allow them to read an on-line version delivered to their mobile devices every Thursday morning at 6:00 a.m.," publisher Marcia Hora said.

If you are a print subscriber you will be given a password and user name that will give you complete access to the newspaper. This will be a new feature at no cost to you.

You may also subscribe to The Stapleton Enterprise/McPherson County News or Thomas County Herald through our pay-wall and receive an online only version.

Creative Printers is pleased to be working with eType Services in bringing you online editions.

All front pages of the newspapers - Stapleton, McPherson County, and Thedford, will be downloaded each week, and may be viewed by going to the website.

Readers will also have access to area obituaries, a community calendar, and "a blog," which will allow time sensitive news articles to reach our readers.

Creative Printers has been putting out quality printing in the Sandhills for over 50 years. Samples of sale bills, posters, business cards, "you name it," will be featured under the "custom printing" button.

All classifieds printed in the newspapers will now be printed free of charge online.

"We thank our many advertisers who have placed ads on our new website. It is just one more avenue to help our area businesses market their products. All advertisers are linked back to their websites or Facebook pages. This will also give those placing classified ads greater coverage and should be a boost to our classified listings," Hora said.

Information about advertising on our website may be obtained by contacting Creative Printers at 308-636-2444, or emailing us at creativeprinters@gpcom.net or stapleton@bytz.net.

Be sure to check out creativeprintersonline.com and become familiar with the website.

New printing equipment is also being installed Wednesday, May 10, as Creative Printers continues to improve and expand their job printing capabilities.

Sunshine for clean-up

The Stapleton Community Clean-up day was changed from Wednesday, May 3, to Thursday, May 4, and it proved to be a good move. Sunshine and warm temperatures made for a perfect day to spruce up in and around the village. Mulch was replaced under the Stapleton sign at the intersection by the first graders. Pictured are Veronica Lee, para-educator; Dayten Beckman, Avery Weems, Izabella Waker, Layla Sanchez, Abilene Webber, Luella Joedeman, Chloe Spangler, and Cotter Johnston.

The Stapleton Area Chamber of Commerce and Stapleton Public Schools teamed up to clean-up and spruce-up in and around the village on Thursday, May 4.

Seniors, all the way down to pre-schoolers, worked on various projects, ranging from painting, picking up trash, planting flowers, and doing odd jobs at individual residences.

The school library was rearranged and shelves were stocked at Stapleton Cooperative Market &

Deli. Extensive clean-up was completed at the Village of Stapleton recycling and rural dumpster site located at the west edge of town, the ball diamond, the former Assembly of God Church that is being revamped into an antique store, and the Logan County Fairgrounds.

The Stapleton Area Chamber of Commerce served grilled hot dogs, chips, and dessert to the hungry workers at noon at the Stapleton Park. Additional clean-up pictures inside this issue.

Rodeo-goers will be able to purchase parking spots

Parking spaces will be available this year for "Stapleton's Biggest Little Rodeo." The Logan County Ag Society will be selling 15 parking spots on the south side of the arena at silent auction.

All bids must be in writing and sent to Stacy Layher, P.O. Box 312, Stapleton, NE 69163. Bids must be postmarked by July 28. The minimum bid for a space will be $50.00. The person with the highest bid will receive first choice and so on. Please be sure to include your name, phone number and bid amount.

Parking spots will be yours for Wednesday through Monday.

Rodeo tickets will go off sale August 11 and no advance pork breakfast tickets will be sold this year.
