Stapleton's Class of 2018 made their final walk together during commencement exercises Saturday, May 12, in the high school auditorium. Class colors of silver and black were carried out and included their class flower, the white rose.

Ushers were Tammie Gaites and Tyrus Allen.

Members of the graduating class are Nikki Jenae Boyer, MacKenzie Jo Burget (Wood), Kaylee Star Burnside, Donovan Shane Freeman, Caitlin Paige Hueftle, Sabrina Cameele Wade, and Shania Marie Wade.

The class marched in to the traditional "Pomp & Circumstance," played by Marcia Hora. Pastor Eric Mockaitis gave the opening.

Valedictorian, Kaylee Burnside, addressed her classmates. She said she had written her own speech and had not used her sister's. She gave credit to teachers, her parents, and the community in helping her accomplish much during her school years. She admonished her classmates to strive for success and be all she knew they could be.

Nikki Boyer, gave the salutatorian address. She acknowledged each of her classmates and shared special memories of their time together.

Patty Stewart gave a charge to the class. She said the Class of 2018 had seen many changes in their 13 years at the school. Administration, teachers, and the loss and gain of students. Through it all they had persevered. She told of Lee Iacocca's firing from Ford Motor Company after making it a success, and going on to achieve great things at Chrysler. Being able to change and adapt can bring nothing but success.

Superintendent Howard Gaffney and Steve Schaeffer, board member, awarded diplomas.

The class presented their video to the song, "On Top of the World."

Graduates presented flowers to special people in their lives while the song, "The Call," was played.

Principal Kris Walker added achievements not noted about the class and wished them the best.

Sabrina Wade gave the closing and Superintendent Howard Gaffney presented the Stapleton High School Class of 2018. They exited the auditorium to "On My Way" by Phil Collins.

Walking for "More Than Bricks"

MARCIA HORA PHOTO

Warm temperatures and sunshine made for a good day to walk and raise money for the Women's Resource Center in North Platte. Eleven walkers and four canine friends raised a total of $1,085 as they walked Saturday, May 5, after meeting at the north end of the Stapleton High School football field. Teresa Schroder was the top walker with the most pledges. This year's Walk for Life theme was "More than Bricks." A ribbon cutting of the Women's Resources new location at 209 McNeel Lane was also celebrated Saturday, May 5. Other area walks were held at Gothenburg, Callaway, Arnold, Dunning, Hershey, and Wallace. The Women's Center offers free pregnancy testing, limited OB ultrasound, a 24-hour helpline, confidential peer counseling, support for family members, learn and earn incentive program, medical referrals, clothing, baby food, and baby furniture, post-abortion support, 24/7 dad, and a teen serve and learn program. Pictured above are the 2018 walkers, Ani Trimble, Sandy Lanka, Jared Trimble, Taliah Trimble, Kathy Trimble, Jason and Asher Trimble, Sadie Trimble, Allie Trimble, Teresa Schroder, and Lisa Kinderknecht, along with canines, Jackie, Otter, Perry and Sweetie.
